Professor Nadja Durbach: UNICEF
podcast, Parenting Refreshed:
Health Issues of Tomorrow.

Durbach is featured in the episode, Health Issues of Tomorrow. What have we learned from previous pandemics? Does history repeat itself? What does the future hold for the health of the planet?

Professor Greg Smoak: Coming to Terms with Agriculture in the West

By one estimate, agriculture in Utah consumes 75% of the state's water. Given that fact, along with historic drought and a drying Great Salt Lake, people are starting to ask: Can we continue to farm here? Smoak is featured in an episode of the KUER podcast, RadioWest.

Professor Elizabeth Clement:
The History of the LGBTQ+ Experience

Professor Elizabeth Clement and History Department MA recipient J. Seth Anderson, discuss the history of the LGBTQ+ experience in Utah as it has slowly evolved on the KUER podcast RadioWest.
